Editor, American Journal of Numismatics

Dear Sir:

We are publishing at this College a historical magazine entitled the William and Mary Historical Quarterly. It is now in the fifth volume of the second series. The purpose of the editors is to print source material relative to Virginia from British and American public records, and from family archives. An exchange of the magazine for the American Journal of Numismatics would be very agreeable to us, and we hope that you may feel that it will be profitable to you. I am sending a sample copy today.

Very sincerely,

E. G. Swem

Dear Sir:

I have your letter of August 21st as well as the copy of the William and Mary Historical Quarterly, but I cannot quite see that there is likely to be enough numismatic material in it to warrant our exchanging, although we should like to have your periodical in our library. I can make an especially good offer for a complete set of the American Journal of Numismatics if you would care to consider it; but as our library is confined to material relating to our subject, I regret that I cannot accept your proposal.

Very truly yours,

Librarian & Secretary
